Staigreen LAWN SEED

BEST ON EARTH. HIGH PURITY
HIGH GERMINATION. CONTAINS NO CRABGRASS
MAXIMUM FREEDOM FROM WEEDS

Staigreen A modern seed mixture, the result of years of experiment and sowing on all types of soil. Composed of the strongest, finest permanent grass varieties, including the Bents, Chewing's and Illahee Fescues. Under favorable conditions it produces a deep-rooted turf, carpet-like and emerald-green, from spring to early winter. Introduced by us in 1912, amended as new ingredients are developed.

Staigreen contains no Ryegrass or Timothy. The mixture has a definite resistance to chinch-bug injury, drought and summer-scald. We recommend it for all lawns, including those at the seashore and on slopes. Contains no White Clover, which may be sown separately if you desire it, allowing 1 pound to 20 pounds of Staigreen. See page 5.

PRICE OF STAIGREEN: Lb. $1.40, 2½ lbs. $3.45,
5 lbs. $6.75, 10 lbs. $13, 25 lbs. $31, 100 lbs. $120

Mixtures on this and opposite page suitable for the climate of the latitude of St. Louis to northernmost Canada. See page 2 for our Southern Lawn Formula.

Shady Place

BEST FOR UNDER TREES

Shady Place Lawn Seed consists of shade-tolerant grass varieties, together with sorts which do well in full light; may be used on both sunny and shaded areas of the lawn. In poor soil it may be necessary to renovate the lawn every season for several years, proceeding thus: Add lime every winter at the rate of 50 pounds per 1000 square feet; fork the land lightly in the spring, and apply Saw-conure, 50 pounds per 1000 square feet and 20 pounds of Emerald Grass Fertilizer; rake smooth and sow Shady Place Lawn Seed. Repeat the program at the end of summer.

PRICE OF SHADY PLACE: Lb. $1.40, 2½ lbs. $3.45,
5 lbs. $6.75, 10 lbs. $13, 25 lbs. $31, 100 lbs. $120

Creeping Bent Seed Pure seed of this fine turf grass. Over six million seeds to the pound, and this combined with the creeping character of the plants makes it possible to sow at half the customary rate on well-prepared soil. With care it will make a putting-green of your lawn. Lb. $2.25, 2½ lbs. $5.50, 5 lbs. $10.75, 10 lbs. $21, 25 lbs. $48.50.

SOWING NEW LAWNS

	Lbs.	Acre	Lbs.
200 sq. feet.....	1	200
1000 sq. feet.....	5

These amounts will give satisfactory results under average conditions, but if time is not important, and if your soil is good and rich, they may be reduced. Sow Creeping Bent at half these rates.

HOW MUCH TO USE

Sow during spring, autumn or winter. Avoid hot weather.

RENOVATING OLD LAWNS

	Lbs.	Acre	Lbs.
200 sq. feet.....	½ to ¾	75 to 125
1000 sq. feet.....	2½ to 4

Quantities are sometimes doubled by experienced turfmakers, especially when a lawn is sown in the spring. Heavy seeding means fewer weeds. However, sow Creeping Bent at the smaller rate listed above.

HOW TO MAKE A BEAUTIFUL LAWN

Dig the soil about 6 inches deep, but only when it is dry; if rain has fallen recently allow a few days of fine weather to elapse before commencing. As you dig, lift each clod high enough to enable you to turn it completely over. Strike the inverted clod with the back of the fork to break it. Remove all stones, sticks, and rubbish. Scatter *Emerald Grass Fertilizer on the dug earth; use 50 pounds to each 1000 square feet. Draw a rake back and forth until the soil is smooth and in fine condition.

Sow good lawn seed at the optimum rate of 1 pound (about $1\frac{1}{2}$ quarts) to each 200 square feet. Double the quantity for spring seeding and when turf is needed quickly. Select a day when no wind is blowing; divide the seed into two portions and sow the land twice to insure its even covering. When you have distributed the seed, rake the land once more, but very lightly. Do not work the rake back and forth—merely draw it toward you in a series of light strokes, raking only once in the same place so as to bury most of the grass seeds no more than $\frac{1}{8}$ inch deep.

Roll the seeded area, but should rain fall before the work is completed, defer the rolling until the land has dried or dispense with it altogether.

Sawco High-Grade Lawn Seed. Composed of fine re-cleaned grasses with White Clover, carefully proportioned so that they succeed one another throughout summer. One pound will sow 200 square feet; 200 pounds, an acre. Lb. $1.20, 2½ lbs. $2.95, 5 lbs. $5.75, 10 lbs. $11, 25 lbs. $26.50, 100 lbs. $100.

Greenwood Formula. For large lawns and parks. Produces turf of medium fineness if mown frequently. Contains seeds of strong germination, producing a permanent turf. Contains no Clover. Use one pound per 10 by 20 feet for new lawns; 200 pounds per acre. Lb. $1.00, 5 lbs. $4.75, 10 lbs. $9.25, 25 lbs. $21.50, 100 lbs. $82.50.

Greenlawn Mixture. Here we have the lowest price at which we can offer re-cleaned grasses up to the Stumpp & Walter Co.'s standards of purity and high germination. Lush, green turf develops quickly. Use 200 pounds per acre, 5 pounds per 1000 square feet. Lb. 75 cts., 5 lbs. $3.25, 10 lbs. $6.25, 25 lbs. $15.25, 100 lbs. $60, 500 lbs. $285.

For renovating, use half the quantities recommended for the several formulas above. For a quick new lawn, use double these amounts.

The Better the Seed, The Finer the Lawn. We include more of the Bent and Fescue grasses—the expensive ingredients—in our better mixtures. They have the narrowest leaves; result—finer turf. We recommend the Staigreen and Shady Place Mixtures. These, with Creeping Bent Seed, are described on opposite page.

REJUVENATING TURF LARGE-SCALE RENOVATING

First, mow closely and spray with one of the Chemical Weed-Killers listed on pages 99, 100. A lawn of pure Bent, however, is an exception; here hand-weeding only is recommended. Then:

1. Scratch the surface with a rake.
2. Broadcast *Sawconure, 50 pounds per 1000 square feet, and *Emerald Grass Fertilizer, 20 pounds per 1000 square feet. Spread sufficient topsoil to make an even surface without hiding the grass.
3. Rub with the back of the rake.
4. Sow lawn seed, $2\frac{1}{2}$ pounds per 1000 square feet.
5. Again rub with the rake. Grass must be dry; early spring and late summer best seasons.

REPAIRING A LAWN RENOVATING SMALL AREAS

Should your lawn fail in spots, if some areas are thin or bare, or when you cannot get grass to grow under trees, remove weeds. Then:

1. Roughen the surface with a rake.
2. Apply Lawnspread. See next page.

*These described on pages 101, 102

New Jersey Seed Mixtures

These are prepared according to the most recent formulas published by the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. They list only those grass varieties known to be suitable for producing excellent turf, and that may be used with every confidence anywhere in the United States, north of the Mason and Dixon line. Although the Experiment Station has established minimum percentages for purity and germination in the individual seeds, our customers will not be surprised to learn that our seeds used in these formulas run consistently and markedly higher than the Station's specifications. We request that this be borne in mind when prices are being considered.

Turf in the South

Southern Lawn Grass Seeds. From central Virginia south, the ordinary northern grasses will not thrive permanently. We offer a special formula which we find satisfactory. We advise that two seedings be made annually, one each spring and one each fall, allowing at each, one pound to every 20 by 20 feet. Continue this programme each spring and fall for as long as is found necessary to produce turf which swings automatically to northern grasses in winter and southern grasses in summer. Lb. $1, 2½ lbs. $2.45, 5 lbs. $4.85, 10 lbs. $9.50, 25 lbs. $22.50, 100 lbs. $85.

Cornell Pasture and Hay Mixture

This formula of grass and clover seeds is compounded strictly in accordance with the specifications of the Department of Agronomy, Cornell University. However, we use higher quality ingredients than specified.

Cornell General-Purpose Mixture. With Kentucky Bluegrass as recommended for a number of years. For hay and pasture or pasture alone. For soil of fair quality, but will thrive under drier conditions than other Mixtures. May be used with a grain crop. Sow 20 pounds per acre. Lb. $1.10, 10 lbs. $9.50, 100 lbs. $80.

Quantity is that recommended by Cornell University. Where maximum speed is needed, and on weed-seed-infested land, it may well be increased by 50 per cent.

Quality Seeds for Profitable Farming

IMPROVED FIELD CORN

Sow 1 peck per acre for ears, $\frac{1}{2}$ bushel for silage, up to 1 bushel for fodder. Rows wide enough for tractor cultivation.

Flint Corns and early Dents are quick plants of moderate size and are grown for ears. Slower Dent sorts are larger and are for both ears and leaves. Fodder varieties are still larger and are grown for their leaves.

Hybrid Varieties

Two kinds are grown together: care is taken in selecting parents, in removing male flowers from the female parents, discarding the ears from the male parents. The hybrids are more thrifty, more disease-resistant, and far heavier producers of grain or ensilage, or both.

9504 Cornell 29-3 Hybrid Dent. (110 days.) Yellow kernels with a slight red tinge. Splendid for ensilage in areas with short seasons and grain for other areas. Qt. 75 cts., postpaid 95 cts.; pk. $4.65, bus. (56 lbs.) $14, 10 bus. $130.

LEGUMINOUS CROPS

SOY BEANS. Plant Vitamin-filled SNAP BEANS for Summer-long Enjoyment ½ lb. equals about ½ pint; 1 lb. equals about 1 pint; 2 lbs. equal about 1 quart; 15 lbs. equal about 1 peck.

Allow 1 pound of seed to each 100 feet of row. Place the seeds 2 to 3 inches apart in drills and about 2 inches deep. The rows should be about 1½ feet apart. Cultivate frequently around your Beans, but always when plants and land are dry. Thin so that Bean plants stand 4 or 5 inches apart. Plant a 10- to 25-foot row every two weeks, starting around May 1 and continuing until August 10.

Snap Beans begin to yield about 8 weeks after sowing. A 25-foot row should yield 25 pounds or more of Beans (pods).

Follow-up Crops

Pole Snap Beans

Early Giant Lima Beans

Broad (Fava) Beans

Differ from American types in that they do best in cold weather; light frost does them no harm, and they should be planted early. Select strong land and spray continuously against aphid and blight. Not recommended for the home-garden.

- 2A 135 English Windsor. Heavy pods are produced in pairs with 3 or 4 large Beans in each. Tender and delicious. $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 35 cts., lb. 65 cts., 5 lbs. \$3.

How to Grow Lima Beans

Don't waste your seed by sowing Lima Beans before all danger of frost is over and the soil is thoroughly warm. Sow Bush sorts in rows 2 feet apart and about 2 inches deep, putting the Beans 3 inches apart in the row, “eye down,” later thinning so that the plants stand 6 to 8 inches apart. For Pole varieties put 6 seeds in each hill, arranging the hills 3 feet apart each way. They require a pole 7 feet high, and when the vines have reached the top, pinch them and so increase the yield. Some gardeners plant under glass and transplant about the time seeds are usually sown. Limas always do best on a nice, rich, loamy soil. Surplus stock may be ripened on the vines, the Beans dried and kept for winter.

Lima Beans take almost the whole season to grow. You cannot plant them for succession, except Early Giant. A good idea is to first sow an exceptionally quick crop, like radish, mustard or spinach, dig when harvested and then sow Limas.

One pound of seed plants 50 to 100 feet of drill or 50 hills.

Should you notice your plants being spotted or spoiled by blight or fungus (and this applies to Snap Beans also), pull out each affected plant and burn it; this does not often happen. But you are very likely to find damage by the Mexican bean beetle. In the soil around the plants you may see the mature beetle, like a spotted, rather large yellow lady bug. Under the leaves are clusters of the orange-yellow eggs, with the yellow, spiny larvæ that hatch from them. The leaves will be eaten into lacy designs, the larvæ eating the leaves, but leaving the veins. Hurry and dust your plants with Hortex, or spray them, especially the under side of the leaves, with Rotene.

A 25-foot row or ten hills should supply 25 pounds or more of Lima Beans (pods). They furnish vitamins B₁, C and G; also phosphorus, copper and some iron.

Yields within 14 weeks of sowing seed. Sow thinly outdoors; transplant when 4 inches, 2 feet apart. Keep the soil well cultivated all summer; in October begin gathering the sprouts. A 25-foot row should give you 20 quarts or more.

RED BEETS

One ounce will plant 100 feet of drill and should yield 100 pounds or more of roots. Allow 5 to 6 pounds of seed per acre. Ready in from 8 to 11 weeks.

THEY ARE EASY TO GROW and pay well for the space they occupy. Seed may be sown $\frac{1}{2}$ inch deep at two-week intervals from early spring to mid-July. The ground should be spaded well and deep, placing rows about 12 inches apart. Cover the seed carefully and firm in the ground by walking over the drills. When seedlings appear about 3 inches above ground, thin out to about 3 inches between the plants so as to give ample room for the proper development of the roots. Thinnings make excellent boiled greens. Beets are best for pulling when about 2 inches in size.

A few seeds of Radish sown in with the Beets will come through first, marking clearly the row and showing you where to start hoeing. Pull Radishes when they are mature; your crop of Beets will not be reduced by this two-kinds-in-one-row scheme.

Beets may be kept for winter use in boxes of sand in a cool cellar, or in a pit outdoors. Or they may be preserved or pickled.

Beets are nourishing and are an excellent source of copper. The tops or greens are especially valuable, supplying vitamins A, B₁, C and G, along with calcium and iron.

CABBAGES

When served raw or not cooked over-long, Cabbage is a valuable food. An excellent source of vitamin C, and an outstanding one of calcium, with some phosphorus.

Sow early kinds 1 inch deep indoors in February and March, and in the open ground during April and May. Late varieties for fall and winter use should also be sown in May. Early sorts may be planted in rows 2½ feet apart, with 18 inches between plants in the row; late kinds should stand 2½ feet each way. POTATOES Purchaser pays transportation

Potatoes contribute iron, vitamins B₁ and C. The best soil for them is a well drained fibrous loam. On clay soils, particularly in certain districts of northern New Jersey, the culture of Potatoes is not recommended. Before planting, work in Sawco General Garden Fertilizer at the rate of 1500 pounds to the acre if applied broadcast, or 750 pounds if applied under the row. Cut into pieces, each containing at least one good eye; plant 10 inches apart and 3 inches deep in 2½-foot rows from April 10 to May 31.

Allow 7 to 10 pounds for each 100 feet of row; 600 pounds will plant an acre. Growing period around 125 days. Potatoes are ready to dig after tops have died down completely. Early Potatoes mature in 9 to 11 weeks, late Potatoes in 12 to 14 weeks.

Use Semesan Bel on your seed Potatoes at planting-time. It controls disease and produces increased yields of healthy plants and tubers. 1 tablespoonful will treat 100 pounds. Spraying with Bordeaux Mixture for blights and scab, and with Lead Arsenate for the potato beetle (½ inch long, yellow with black stripes) are a necessary process with the growing crop. See Insecticide and Fungicide Section at end of this Catalogue.

Katahdin Potato

Sweet Potato

One of the most important American food crops, so highly nutritious that in the New York area everyone should grow it in localities where Potatoes of the ordinary type are often unprofitable. It may well be given consideration in northern New Jersey, for example, as an ideal home-garden food crop.

Set out about 2 feet apart each way in sandy soil; dig after first frost. Cultivate often, and prevent stems taking root by lifting the tops from time to time.

2A 739 Yellow Jersey.

2A 738 Big Stem. Yellow.

Each variety, $2 per 100, $15 per 1000

Ready in June, these are rooted cuttings which, in a few hours after separating them from the parent tuber, take on a wilted appearance. Despite this, however, they grow well and may be planted with every confidence. But we do not ship Sweet Potatoes beyond 50 miles.

Sweet Potato tubers keep well if they are thoroughly cured, and handled with great care to avoid bruising.

RADISHES

Fresh-pulled Radishes are refreshing. They are an excellent source of vitamin B₁ and a fair source of vitamin G. They furnish a good amount of copper.

As early in the spring as the ground can be worked, sow sparingly, ½ inch deep, any of the round or olive-shaped varieties, allowing 1 to 1½ feet between the rows. Thin to 1 inch apart (summer and winter sorts need 4-inch spacing). Hoe frequently. The round and olive-shaped sorts serve until June 15, when Icicle and Cincinnati Market are at their best. Summer sorts are good until frost from repeated sowings. Winter varieties should be sown from July 15 to August 15, and may be pulled after light frosts and stored through winter.

One ounce will plant about 100 feet of drill. One generous bunch per foot of row is an average yield.

Round and Olive-shaped

SALSIFY

Vegetable Oyster

One ounce will sow about 50 feet of drill. Delicious vegetable, grown and served like parsnip; autumn frosts improve its flavor. Sow early in spring, in drills 15 inches apart and 1 inch deep, thinning out the young plants to 4 inches. The roots will be ready in October, when a supply should be taken up and stored like carrots; remainder may be left in the ground and dug in spring.

2A 778 Mammoth Sandwich Island. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 70 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$2, lb. \$6.

Mammoth Sandwich Island Salsify

SPINACH

Sow in April in drills $\frac{1}{2}$ inch deep and 15 inches apart; again in August or September. Thin to 3 inches between plants. Spinach requires rich soil.

One ounce will plant about 100 feet of drill, and produce over 6 bushels of Spinach. Gather about 7 weeks after seeding.

Spinach is essentially a cool-weather crop, and should be sown early; plants from late spring seedings frequently "bolt" to flowers, unless you choose carefully from the following a sort less prone to do so.

2A 782 Emerald Standing. ★ Large, vigorous type, of compact, spreading growth. Leaves are large, thick, slightly crumpled, very fleshy and carried on long stems. Dark green. The most important point, however, is that it stands fully one month longer than any other variety before bolting to seed. Yet it is quick-growing. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 40 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1, lb. \$2.25.

2A 780 Blight-Resistant. ★ A Savoy-leaved Spinach which may be grown on soil infected with blight. Since it tends to bolt to flower somewhat freely, we do not advise extensive seedings in warm weather. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 25 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 70 cts., lb. \$1.50.

2A 785 Old Dominion. ★ A mosaic-resistant hybrid. Very hardy, and much used in late autumn, when seed remains dormant over winter and germinates first thing in spring. Good for early spring sowing also. Wrinkled leaves. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 30 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 75 cts., lb. \$1.65.

2A 786 Princess Juliana. ★ A splendid all-purpose variety; good for the home gardener and commercial grower alike. Large, wrinkled and blistered dark green leaves. Slow to bolt in hot weather. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 30 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 80 cts., lb. \$1.75.

2A 781 Bloomsdale Savoy. ★ Dark green. Valued both by market growers and home gardeners because of its earliness. The leaves are wrinkled and crumpled. Yields heavily and is particularly hardy. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 25 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 70 cts., lb. \$1.50.

2A 787 Viking. ★ A new quick-growing sort, but one that is slow to run to seed. Large medium-blistered leaves; dark green. Excellent home-garden variety. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 35 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 90 cts., lb. \$2.

2A 790 New Zealand Spinach

The plants grow vigorously, do not run to seed, and withstand drought better than true Spinach. Furnishes a summer supply of "greens." Illustrated above.

Sow during May, in drills 2 feet apart. Thin to 9 inches between plants. Ready in about 10 weeks from sowing. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 45 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1.15, lb. \$3.

2A 791 Perpetual Spinach

This desirable cut-and-come-again plant may be sown from April to June, and in six weeks cutting may commence, to continue right through into fall. The "greens" furnished are similar in flavor to true Spinach, the leaves being very tender; they are both palatable and healthful. Cut the leaves about 3 inches from the ground. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 45 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1.15, lb. \$3.

2A 583 Mustard Spinach (Tendergreen)

Good boiling vegetable, healthful and palatable. Has a pleasant flavor, and many who do not like true spinach will relish it. Cut within a month of sowing seed. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 30 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 80 cts., lb. \$1.75.

Swiss Chard and Spinach are among the most healthful of foods. Both are high in vitamins A and G, and in all minerals, especially iron. Swiss Chard is also an outstanding source of vitamin B₁ and Spinach an excellent source of vitamin C.

SWISS CHARD

Spinach Beet

This delectable vegetable is one you should grow yourself, for it is seldom offered for sale.

Leaves may be boiled, adding fried chopped bacon if you so desire. The stalks may be served as a distinct dish cooked like asparagus. Sow early in spring in rows and thin to 9 inches.

One ounce will plant about 100 feet of drill, and yield more than 10 bushels of produce. Cutting commences in about 7 weeks.

2A 823 Mammoth New York. This is a large, distinct sort, medium green in color. The leaves are smooth, and the stalks are milk-white. High breeding has eliminated the earthy flavor common to many Chards. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 55 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1.50.

2A 821 Giant Lucullus. Plants grow to a height of 2 to 2½ feet and the stalks are 1½ inches broad, heavily ribbed, and from 10 to 12 inches long. The large, medium green leaves are heavily crumpled. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 35 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 90 cts., lb. \$2.

2A 822 Green Lyon. A vigorous-growing, stocky type with smooth, deep green leaves and broad, thick, white stalks. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 40 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1, lb. \$2.25.

2A 820 Fordhook. A giant variety with broad, wrinkled, dark green leaves and broad white stems. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 35 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 90 cts., lb. \$2.

2A 824 Rhubarb Chard. Bright crimson stems and dark green and crimson leaves give this variety a striking appearance; it looks like rhubarb at first sight. Grow and cook it as you would other Chards, and you will find it even more delicious. Decorative in the flower garden, too. Pkt. 15 cts., oz. 45 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1.25.

Giant Lucullus Swiss Chard

TOMATOES

One ounce will produce about 1000 plants. Yield begins 9 to 13 weeks after setting out.
Abundant source of vitamin C.

Although the purchase of plants is established practice with most home gardeners, growing Tomatoes from seed is economical and entirely practical. It should be sown sparingly in a hotbed, greenhouse, or in the home from the second week in February to the end of April. When the plants are about 2 inches high they should be transplanted about 4 inches apart, or thinned so that they do not overcrowd. Around May 15 the plants may be set out in the open ground, 3 feet each way. Protect each plant with a Cutworm Guard; otherwise cutworms may destroy it. For an autumn crop, sow seed in May in the open.

To have clean, disease-free Tomatoes provide each plant with a strong stake or other support.

STRAWBERRIES

Strong, well-developed plants in pots.

Rich soil, kept firm, and with a plentiful supply of moisture, is desirable. Select potted plants and space them at 9-inch intervals in rows 2 feet apart in spring or late summer.

Keep the row well weeded at all times, and your hoeing must be very shallow, because all feeding roots are close to the surface. Whiten the soil around the plants with General Garden Fertilizer in November and May. Spread ½ inch of peat moss over both ground and plants in December, and brush it lightly off the leaves in April.

Strawberry plants produce daughter plants around the parent, and as care of a bed develops into routine, it is usual to retain daughter plants at approximately 9 inches apart; in early autumn, transplant surplus plants into new rows. Destroy two-year-old parents.

Runners connecting plants should be cut as soon as young ones are rooted.

Temple. Very productive; berries medium to large. Medium red.

Potted Plants, $1.75 per doz.,
$3.35 for 25, $12.50 per 100

The above types produce one abundant crop of flowers, followed by fruit, in spring or early summer.

The following types produce flowers rather sparingly all the year. By keeping these pinched off in spring and summer until August 15, and so building up reserved strength in the plant, a fair crop of good fruit will be developed for the autumn.

Asters Resistant to Wilt

Annual. Asters should have an open, sunny position, and prefer a good, rich, loamy soil; do not grow them on the same ground two years in succession. All colors are now available in varieties that are highly wilt-resistant. They are not claimed to be entirely immune, however, although they are very robust and less likely to be affected than old-time sorts.

GLADIOLUS The Cream of the World's Best Varieties

Collection of Gladiolus

CULTURE.—Any good garden soil will grow Gladioli well, provided they are planted in a sunny location. Corms should be 4 inches deep and at least 6 inches apart; frequent cultivation with a hoe or a weeder, around the base of the plant, is advisable. For best results, we recommend plants being staked when one foot high. (We offer light green dyed bamboo canes, which are excellent for this purpose.) Water if needed, and as the flower-buds begin to form, apply liquid manure for exhibition spikes.

May be planted at intervals for a succession of bloom, and those held for planting should be kept cool. Patrons who plant late for September flowers may order in the spring; we will keep corms in cold storage and ship them when required, up to July 15, which, in the latitude of New York, is the latest advisable date to plant.

From planting-date, blooms appear in 10 to 13 weeks.

We supply 25 or more corms of a variety at the 100 rate

HARDY LILIES—Exclamation Points of Garden Beauty

Lilies are so beautiful, and many so fragrant, that you may think them hard to grow, but most of the following varieties are easy.

Generally, they are best planted where their roots will be in shadow and their stems and leaves in full light. Ideal positions are amid shrubs or in the annual or perennial border, or in the companionship of ground-cover. Any good garden soil will serve, provided it drains well. Spade the land to a depth of 18 inches and work in General Garden Fertilizer; plant the bulbs in groups of three or more of a kind, setting them on a 1-inch layer of sand to provide adequate drainage.

Many Lilies are "stem-rooters," that is, they develop roots on the stem above the bulb, in addition to roots below the bulb. Other kinds are "basal-rooters," depending on roots below the bulb only. Stem-rooters are planted deep enough that the top of the bulb is covered by a thickness of soil twice the size of the bulb, from base on top; basal-rooters are planted shallow, overlaid by soil equal to one-half the size of the bulb.

4A 3171 Auratum. Stately Lilies growing 3 to 6 feet high. One plant bears twenty or more large, fragrant flowers 8 to 10 inches in diameter, in August. White spotted deep red, with a bright yellow band running through the center of each petal. Plant 9 to 12 inches deep. Stem-rooting. 75 cts. each, $6.50 for 10, $60 per 100.

4A 3174 Canadense rubrum. Giant sprays of nodding bell-like orange-red blooms on 3- to 5-foot stems in July. Stem-rooting. Plant 8 inches deep in full sun or light shade. 45 cts. each, $3.50 for 10, $30 per 100.

4A 3168 Henryi (Yellow Speciosum). Vigorous, 6 to 8 feet high, with bright apricot-yellow flowers (more than twenty on a plant) in July and August. Plant 8 inches deep. 55 cts. each, $4.50 for 10, $40 per 100.

Everyone enjoys the scent of Roses, and all our everblooming varieties are fragrant; sorts marked * have a pronounced perfume, and those marked  even more so.

The number of petals indicates the doubleness of a Rose; one with 17 is a semi-double bloom; one with 100 petals is heavy and tight.

Roses do not necessarily require a clay soil; a medium loam is better. In fact, they will grow in almost any kind provided it is rich, retains moisture yet drains well.

YOUR PURCHASE IS INSURED; we will replace any Roses that may not be alive two months after purchase.

Climbing Roses for Fence, Trellis or Post

Climbing Roses may be trained over an arch, draped around posts, or festooned from one post to another. Planted on steep slopes, and pegged down, they hold the soil against erosion. They require no pruning in the spring except the cutting out of very old or dead wood, and the shortening of the laterals and long canes to make the growth conform to the space to be covered; but prune severely in July, directly after they have finished flowering.
